City tax increases will encourage firms to move, hurting employment base

Baltimore Business Journal

Growing Baltimore Jobs is priority No. 1. If we have more jobs, we will have more people paying taxes, buying homes, eating at our restaurants. Our mission is to encourage more businesses to open their doors in our city so we hire more unemployed people and create more jobs. We want to retain and strengthen our existing businesses. By increasing our taxes, we make our city less competitive and businesses will move elsewhere and we will lose jobs. Mayor Stephanie Rawlings-Blake's plan to increase taxes should be reversed.
